This weekend I was on the show Comunidad Del Valle hosted by NBC. I spoke about the new version of the Reuniting Families Act that I will be introducing on the floor of the House soon. The bill contains practical solutions for reducing family immigration visa backlogs and promoting humane and timely reunification of immigrant families. You can find out more on the bill by clicking here.