“This week’s meeting with Secretary Napolitano was a critical step in highlighting issues that are of importance to CAPAC and the millions of AAPIs that we represent, including the deportation of AAPI undocumented immigrants, racial profiling of the Muslim and Sikh communities, and comprehensive immigration reform. We reminded the Secretary that such reform needs to include family reunification, as nearly half of the 4.7 million individuals waiting to reunite with their loved ones are AAPI. As CAPAC’s Immigration Taskforce Chair, I look forward to continuing to partner with the Secretary and all offices within the Department of Homeland Security to address the issues that we raised during this productive meeting.”
