

Rep Michael Honda, as vice-chair of the Congressional LGBT Caucus issued the following statement today: “My wedding day was among the happiest in my life, and these beloved memories are experiences I wish for all couples, regardless of sexual orientation. Recent wins at the ballot in Minnesota, Maine, Maryland, and Washington state suggest that this sentiment is true throughout the country. I truly hope that the feeling is same in the hearts and minds of those nine justices. They have one of the defining issues of our time before them, and history will remember this.”
